SCHOOL BOARD OUT BY 2 VOTES

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

William James, somewhere in his works discussed what a stimulating effect of a good cup of coffee, or the disastrious result of missing one, can be on human action. Now comes Prof. Karl H. Reichenbach, of the University of Michigan, and states that Europe's troubles are due primarily to the fact that her people do not make, and drink, good coffee. If they had first class coffee for breakfast, instead of the bilge that usually goes under that name on the continent, they would not be so nervous and warlike.

There is a good deal in favor of Prof. Reichenbach's idea. The so-called coffee in England is usually a cheap brand, boiled to death. The French have the better methods of making coffee, but they adulterate it with chicory and other substances which gives it a peculiar flavor. German coffee is poor, and the Italians scarcely know what coffee is. The best coffee to be obtained on the Continent is found in Holland—and the Dutch are industrious, pacific and probably wealthier per capita than any other European people. It may well be because they drink such good coffee.

Americans drink lots of coffee, usually know how to prepare it well, and don't like international quarrels. But they also chew gum more than any other nation. The question arises whether Europe would not be in better shape if her people were gum-chewers. It looks like a subject that the League of Nations should investigate.

Perhaps the most misunderstood and least appreciated member of the insect family who really deserves no little credit is the bumblebee. Because he seems to be a man of leisure, who spends the summer gorging himself instead of storing up honey for the coming winter, he has been called a parasite and a vagrant.

In Australia and New Zealand he is held in as great respect as he commands from the barefoot boy, who, though he admires the throaty hum and beautiful gold and black fur coat, treads warily in the clover lest he step on one of Mr. Bumblebee's sharp needles. These two countries learned his real worth when they attempted to transplant clover there. They discovered that without the bumblebee's aid in pollination their clover would not grow, so the bumblebee, who was not a native of those parts, was imported.

For those who do not know that he works while he eats and bumbles, the bumblebee is the very embodiment of man's midsummer lodgings. He is as typical of midsummer as are brown-eyed Susans.

It is not the bumblebee's fault that he is improvident, living from hand to mouth. He knows that with the end of the flowering season he will die, so lives accordingly. Does the condemned man save a part of his last meal for the next day?

Is there any authority for "after-effects," as in the phrase "the after-effects of measles," and if so what and why? An effect must follow its cause; it can not precede it. If the effect must come after the cause, why call it an after-effect? Or if that is good English, why not speak of a before-cause?

Then there is the commonly used expression "wearing apparel." What is apparel for, if not to be worn? Is there any other kind of apparel? The dictionaries say apparel is clothing. One doesn't buy clothing to eat, or hang on the wall. Shakespeare did not say: "The wearing apparel oft proclaims the man." He said "apparel," net.

We are also moved to grief by the word "eyesight." To be sure there is foresight and more frequently hindsight. But sight implies the use of the eyes. People don't talk of earhearing or nose smelling.

We suspect that all these expressions, and many more in common use that are equally tautologic, were invented by type-founders.

CAMERON LEGION CELEBRATES JULY 4

ANNUAL PROGRAM OF OBSERVANCE

Annaul July 4th Celebration is announced officially this week by the Cameron Legion. Active plans for the day's program will see a good will advertising tour next week.

Big State Shows carnival opens here Monday June 29th to officially begin the celebration.

A fireworks display will feature the night program on the closing day. The celebration will be held in Wilson-Ledbetter Park. In the afternoon a baseball game between Cameron and Meridian will be played on Lawless Green field.

Public speaking will begin at 10 a. m. with state and district candidates addressing the crowds.

A feature of the program this year is a cross country run by negro contestants with cash prizes. The race will start in Burlington at 10 a. m. The race will end at Wilson-Ledbetter Park, central celebration site for the day.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE GETS UNDER WAY

The soft-ball fans were well entertained Friday night with two games of ball and an exhibition on the field between games by the Cameron Band, which is one of the finest in this part of the country.

Little's Icers cooled the Athletic Council team to a 20 to 4 victory for the Icers in one hour of fast moving soft ball.

The second game was between Texaco and Minerva Oilers. The score was 22 to 0. The unexcelled pitching by Cone and good team work points to Minerva as one of the strongest if not the strongest teams in the league.

Rockdale Boosters Coming Wednesday Night July 1st

Rockdale boosters for the Legion Fourth of July Celebration in that city, will visit Cameron on Wednesday night, July 1, it was announced by the committee.

E. A. Camp, Mayor of Rockdale, will deliver an address and invite the Cameron people to spend the day in Rockdale. Cameron's band will play in Rockdale on July 4th.

The Legion Committee is staging a series of visits to neighboring towns to advertise the celebration there on Saturday July 4.

DANCE AT BURLINGTON

A Fourth of July Dance will be held in Burlington Hall on Saturday July 4th. Bert Kleypas will make the music along with his Happy Seven. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Annual Rally Day For Farm Clubs

Milam County's annual Rally Day for Home Demonstration Clubs held Friday June 19 was a memorable array of interest in all phases of the rural homes program.

Fourteen clubs out of 17 clubs in the county were represented in the attendance. These delegates augmented by outside attendance brought the number up to 200. The crowd gathered in the city park.

Miss Bertha Fae Strange, home demonstration agent, was celebrating her third year as director of the work in this county. The first home demonstration club in Texas was organized in Milam County, thus fixing this county as the cradle of this government program in Texas. Miss Strange is one of Texas' greatest leaders and her work in this county has brought her a measure of distinction enjoyed by few home demonstration agents in the United States.

Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp read a paper on "14 Years of Continuous Work in Milam County." This address is published elsewhere in this edition. Mrs. Kemp is noted for her historic writings.

It remained for Dr. Alex Deinst of Temple to bring the principal address of the day when he spoke on Early Texas History.

Dr. Deinst, speaking on interesting events featured the unrecorded incidents of history and the audience listened for more than two hours with rapt attention. Dr. Deinst has been a collector of historic documents and Indian relics for more than 40

Milam County Pioneered Home Domonstration Work

By MRS. JEFF T. KEMP

The Milam County Home Demonstration Clubs, pioneers in the path of progress, pause today to review their achievements as an incentive to future efforts.

The philosophy and power of agricultural demonstration as taught by Dr. Deaman A. Knapp found early advocates in Milam County where farmers and their wives read the best papers and farm magazines, such as the Progressive Farmer, The Country Gentleman, Cappers Weekly, The Farm and Ranch and Hollands, and were alert to put the best theories into practice. Here and there over Milam county there were women who took advantage of extension methods promulgated by A. & M. Extension authorities and long before a county home agent was employed regularly, they were content to store up cans of food and to show their neighbors better ways for preserving food and to lend their canning equipment to them, if desired.

Mrs. Sanford of Rockdale and Mrs. Edna V. Trigg, who kept her own farm home and taught the Liberty school, were good examples of intelligent and helpful Milam County farm women. They early attended the annual Farmers Short Course at A. & M. College. These leaders by example and excellent common sense, engendered a desire among their neighbors to learn newer methods and invoked the aid of the people of Rockdale, Thorndale and Cameron and other country market towns to persuade the members of Commissioners' Court to provide funds for the beginning of canning work in Mi-

CLOSE CALL HERE ON ELECTIVE PLAN

Cameron was without a school board for the first time in the history of the schools Tuesday night when the people said by a majority of only two votes that they wanted to stop the practice of appointing members and adopted the elective system.

Mayor Chas. C. Smith said the council would order an election to be held soon to name seven members of the board. Those who have been ousted by the referendum are: J. C. Martin, President; R. A. Thomas, Dr. T. E. Crump, Frank S. Lesovsky, H. H. Stedman, Mrs. Giles McDermott and Dr. W. R. Newton, Sr.

Six hundred and fifty votes were cast. The result was as follows: For electing school board by popular vote: 326; Against electing the board by popular vote, or maintaining the appointive system, 324 votes.

Controversy arose over failure of the board to elect a faculty member for the 1936-37 term. A petition signed by more than 600 voters asked an election to determine whether the board should be named by election or by the council.

Although no announcement has been made by the sponsors of the petition, it was regarded as certain that a complete slate of candidates would be announced. Mayor Smith who opposed the dismissal of his board of trustees, said he thought July 25 would be a good date on which to hold the election.

ALL DAY PICNIC HERE SUNDAY 28

All advance preparation had been made by the committees for the all day picnic at National Hall Sunday, June 28th, it was announced Wednesday.

The program proper will begin at 11 a. m. B. P. Matocha of Austin, will be master of ceremonies. At 11 o'clock Baca's Band will start a concert.

At noon a dinner of barbecue, sausage and chicken will be served at 25c per plate.

At 1:30 p. m. Judge R. B. Stanford, personal representative of Governor Allred, will deliver a patriotic address. This will be followed by speeches from W. R. Poage and Frank B. Tirey, candidates for Congress. Dr. W. R. Newton, candidate for the State Senate will speak and will be followed by Jesse James and Henry G. Lehman, candidates for Representative 65th district.

A special feature of the day will be the Beseda, national dance of Czechoslavakia. The dancers will be in the costumes of the native country and will go to Dallas for a part in the Czech day.

The program for the day will be closed with a big dance in the hall at night.

Cameron Grocers Offer Big Values To Food Buyers

Hickman & Bailey, enterprising young grocery merchants, greet the readers of Cameron's only Thursday morning newspaper this week with a message of interest to buyers of food. These men have proven the value of advertising and find that there is no other way in conducting a growing and modern business. Look for their ad in this issue.

The big store where many trade and food values are always good—Green & Boedeker—greet the great family of readers in this issue with a big three day sale of merchandise. These stores have found advertising indispensible in the sale of merchandise. Food values are high and the prices lower at Green & Boedeker stores this week end.

Car Load of Goods In Stewart Sales Here This Week

A car load of Palmolive, Colgate, Peet Products, will be sold at the B. F. Stewart Grocery this week end, including Monday, it was announced in a page advertisement in The Herald this week.

Another feature of the sale is the big bargain sweep throughout the store. The sale is one of the most important of the store's history with a solid car load af merchandise unloaded for the special event.

Cameron's only Thursday morning newspaper is carrying the message to its readers in time for Thursday, Friday and Saturday buying opportunities. The sale will be a big event in Cameron this week end and Monday.

"I consider this an important merchandising event," said Mr. Stewart, "because of the opportunity it gives people to buy products they know and need."

Advertising Pays According To A. & W. Sales Co.

Robert Murphy, manager of A. & W. Sales Co., in Cameron, told the Cameron Herald last week that the age old saying, "advertising pays" carries more truth than most people suspect. Mr. Murphy advertised last week in the Herald, Cameron's only Thursday Morning newspaper, and was pleased to announce that his advertisement paid for itself before ten o'clock Thursday morning.

Comptroller Sheppard Asking For Re-Election

An entire life-time of honorable public service is the record upon which George H. Sheppard is basing his campaign for re-election as Comptroller of the State of Texas.

The son of a Confederate Soldier, born in McClennan County 61 years ago, Sheppard moved to West Texas where he was reared on a ranch. He was educated in the public schools of that section, then attended State Normal schools, and later became a teacher in that part of the state.

Sheppard's first public office was Tax Assessor of Nolan County, and it was here that he acquired the interest of tax problems that led ultimately to his election as president of the State Tax Assessors Association.

Subsequently, Sheppard was mayor of the City of Sweetwater for five years and became an active member of the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Based on this experience, Sheppard was a successful candidate for the office of State Comptroller. His knowledge and experience have enabled him to materially improve the economy and efficiency of this office where the administrative duties have increased materially during the past few years. Sheppard's first work was to eliminate the efficiency that had developed over a long period of years and to organize the department in a manner that would improve the method of collection and enable the state to obtain all of the revenue due. The effect of this work is apparent in the fact that the motor fuel Tax income was $37,152,700 in 1935 an increase of $3,273,052 over the previous year and a gain of $7,457,256 over the collections for 1933. Despite this increase in collection the cost of enforcement has been only one per cent of the revenue of the state.

Another increase that demonstrates the efficiency of the personnel under Sheppard's administration is in the rise in Cigarette Tax receipts to $4,301,277 in 1935. This is $293,432 above 1934 and receipts so far this year indicate that the total income will exceed $5,500,000. In 1934 gross receipts taxes totaled $8,843,706. They increased to $11,136,164 in 1935, a net gain of $2,292,4458. During the same period the gross production tax collected on crude oil increased $1,934,215 to $8,016,042.

The available School fund has also benefitted largely from the increased collections. In 1933 the income to this fund totaled $9,591,567. By 1935 this income increased to $17,963,882 for that year, a net gain of $8,372,315.

This has enabled the state to increase its per capita apportionment from $16.00 to $17.50 per year and to have a balance in the fund of $5,886,888 after paying $5.00 per capita on old debts for the Bureau. During this period the school levy has been cut 15 cents to 20 cents, a reduction of approximately 40 per cent.

The duties of the Comptroller require that he perform other services for the state than those attendant to the administration of the particular office to which he has been elected. While he receives no income for additional services, Comptroller Geo. H. Sheppard is now a member and secretary of the board of county and district road indebtedness, automatic tax board, board to select prison auditor, state tax board, and Texas bond commission.

Because of his wide and varied experience gained through years of public service during which time his integrity has never been questioned, George H. Sheppard is prepared to serve the people of Texas in a manner that will be a credit to the State and to the office for which he is a candidate.

Streetman Family In Reunion Held in Fort Worth

An interesting and enjoyable family reunion of the Streetman's was held last week.

Green Streetman of Pawhuska, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Paul Wynne of Fort Worth, sister of Mr. Streetman, came to Cameron to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Streetman. They went to Calvert to visit for a day at the old home. Mr. Streetman from Pawhuska had not visited in Calvert for 28 years and found many changes wrought by almost a third of a century.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Streetman of Cameron joined the other members and they went to Dallas to spend a few days at the Centennial celebration there. Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Streetman and family of Eldorado, Oklahoma, joined the other members and a family reunion was held in Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Streetman returned to Cameron last week. Mr. Streetman was born in Cameron and reared in the home of the late Dr. Greer. The late Judge Streetman who died in Houston was an uncle o fMr. Streetman here.

Man Who Tracked 90 Swindlers To Earth Glad Bunco Artist Is Assessed A Life Sentence

HALE CENTER, June 19 — J. Frank Norfleet, victim of a $45,000 bunco swindle in 1919, who hunted down the entire gang and obtained their convictions, expressed gratification today when he heard J. B. Bing had received a life sentence in Los Angeles.

Bing, under the name of Harris, received a sentence in Texas for the famous Norfleet swindle, but was pardoned. He spoke of the old case when the California jury returned its verdict.

Norfleet, veteran now of more than 90 swindling cases since his own ill fortune turned the erstwhile rancher into a manhunter, said Bing's real name was Charles Schulz, and his home was in Ontario, Canada. He said the man had been arrested three times to his knowledge, in bunco cases.

E. D. PARNELL SPEAKS TO POULTRY COUNCIL

The Gulf Coast Poultry Council of Houston had as the principal speaker for their June meeting, E. D. Parnell, Cameron teacher of Vocational Agriculture. He spoke on standards for market poultry and eggs, stressed the value of exhibite in improving standards and urged Houston officials to establish a regular show in December for market poultry.

The Council is composed of poultry raisers from all Gulf Coast poultry counties. Five counties were represented at the Monday night meeting by approximately a hundred poultry breeders. Parnell was in Houston for the program at the invitation of E. C. Stone, manager of the Breeder-Feeder, an agricultural magazine published in Houston.

Mrs. E. H. Ruark is president of the organization that covers 17 counties.

A huge market poultry show together with the largest egg show ever held in the Southwest, is the objective of the group for December of this year, the members say.

Cold Sheep Starts Blaze Costing $4,000

Arcadia, Wis.—A sheep which caught its wool on fire by standing too close to a water heater was blamed for a fire at the Emil Fink farm, two miles west of Arcadia.

It destroyed a large barn and machine shed with a loss of about $4,000. All the farm machinery with the exception of a cream separator burned. Volunteers saved other buildings, although snowdrifts made it difficult to reach the farm.

AFRICA IS PERILED BY ELEPHANT GAIN

Rapid Increase Is Caused by Hunting Restrictions.

London.—Thanks to restrictions on the "big game hunters" who used to go to Africa and shoot everything in sight, elephants are increasing—not in size, but in numbers.

In fact, the elephant "housing" problem in some areas is becoming serious. There is danger of elephantine overcrowding.

Water buffaloes, too, are having larger families now than in the old days, and a call for consideration of these problems is made in the current number of "Nature."

"Buffalo and elephant have multiplied simply because they are large, dangerous animals, not easily tackled with muzzle-loaders," says the writer.

"In a buffalo hunt in 1930 when, near the Kafue flats, a herd was driven, according to custom, into a selected swamp, the toll of dead was 30 buffaloes and seven native hunters.

"The amazing rapidity of the increase demands a planned effort at reducing their numbers and maintaining a constant check upon their increase.

"The same may be said about the elephant, of which there are at least 12,000 in northern Rhodesia, and which are believed to have trebled in number during the past 30 years.

"Although there is no general excess, there are districts where the herds are rapidly becoming disturbingly large."

Truck Chases Coyotes, Dogs Finish Capture

Karval, Colo.—Modern methods have been injected into the western sport of coyote hunting and the pastime has become a profitable business for Charles Gross.

Gross uses a light truck in his work. The truck is able to maintain a speed of 50 to 55 miles an hour over the prairie and he can overtake the fleetest coyote, which is capable of a top speed of 35 to 40 miles.

The truck is equipped with three compartments in which dogs ride. Three dogs are carried in each compartment.

When Gross is within 300 yards of a coyote he releases one group of dogs. Two tackle hounds and one killer are sent after the coyote, an animal about the size of a small police dog. In event another coyote is sighted before the dogs make the kill Gross merely turns loose another trio of dogs.

Coyote pelts bring $4 to $5 each, and since November 112 animals have been killed by Gross and his dogs.

Nickel Debt Is Paid Off After Wait of 50 Years

Decorah, Iowa.—Dr. E. O. Glere of Minneapolis has repaid to Ben Bear, a Decorah clothier, a half-century-old debt—a nickel.

Here for the annual convention of the Lutheran Students union, his first visit to Decorah since he was a Lutheran student 50 years ago, Doctor Glere called on Mr. Bear.

"Do you remember," the doctor said, "that I bought a 25-cent collar from you 50 years ago and only had 20 cents to pay for it?"

"Yes," said Mr. Bear.

"And," said the doctor, "do you remember you took my promise to pay you that nickel difference later?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Bear.

"Well," said the doctor, "here's the nickel."

"I always knew you would pay me," chuckled Mr. Bear, as he pocketed the coin.

College Memory Contest Brings Poetic Laughs

New Wilmington, Pa.—Poets and playwrights undoubtedly stirred in their graves when the results of a "quoting-poetry-from-memory" test at Westminster college were announced.

Shakespeare's "All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players" was transformed to "All the world's a stage and most of us merely stagehands."

Other misquotes included: "We come to bury Caesar, not to raise him"; "Barefoot feet and cheeks of ton"; and "Twinkle, twinkle little star, how I wonder how you are."

Restitution Made

Brod, individually and as survivor of the community estate of himself and wife, Tonie Brod, deceased, and Joe Kostiha, for the sum of $3245.53, with interest thereon from April 23, 1936, at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and costs of suit, which judgment was rendered on April 23, 1936, in the District Court of Dallas County, for the 44th Judicial District of Texas, I have levied upon and will, on the first Tuesday in July, 1936, same being the 7th day of said month, at the Court House door in the City of Cameron, Milam County, Texas, between the hours of ten o'clock A. M. and four o'clock P. M., proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash all the right, title and interest of said defendants, or either of them, in and to the following described real estate, levied upon June 4, 1936, as the property of said defendants, to-wit:

Situated in the County of Milam, State of Texas, being 50 acres of land, located about eight miles west of Cameron, Texas, known as the Brod Farm, being a part of a survey patented to S. M. Swinson, Assignee of Francisco Antonio de los Rios, on February 21, 1857, Abstract No. 302, and being the same land described in deed of trust from E. L. Brod, individually and as survivor of the community estate of himself and wife Tonie Brod, deceased, to G. W. Fowler, Trustee, dated October 15, 1926, and recorded in volume 60, page 31, of the Deed of Trust Records of Milam county, Texas.

The above sale will be made by me to satisfy the above described judgment, and the proceeds thereof will be applied to the satisfaction of said judgment.

R. M. KENNEDY, Sheriff of Milam County, Texas.

SUDAN GRASS MAY NOW BE HARVESTED

There has recently been some doubt as to whether or not sudan could be harvested and still be considered a soil conserving crop. According to a late ruling by the State Committee sudan can be grazed or harvested for hay or seed, and still be classed as a soil conserving crop.

Some farmers are now ready to plow under such crops as sudan, peas or sorghum. As soon as the proper forms reach this office, the following certification will be made by every producer who has plowed any soil conserving o rsoil building crop under. A statement witnessed by two dis-interested people as to the date the crop was turned under, the condition of the stand, the height in inches, and the kind of crop plowe dunder. This record is very important and should be kept and given to the supervisor when the farm is checked for compliance.

FAMILY REUNION

Eighty-five relatives and a total of 150 were present for the Sheppard family reunion at the Conolley church recently.

The program was opened with the song "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Special music was given by Mrs. R. H. Floyd and Mrs. Alma Catchens.

The remainder of the program was as follows:

Prayer—Will Sheppard.

Talk—Bill Alex Bonds.

Song—"Long, Long Ago"—Miss Mary Kate Logan, Dallas and Misses Margie and LaVerne Floyd of Austin.

Song—"I'm a Tex"—Pat Logan.

Song—"When I Grow Too Old To Dream"—Aubrey Logan and Peggy Page.

Song—"Running Over" — Wynelle McFalls.

Violin Solo—Mildred Sheppard of Waco.

A picnic dinner was spread under the shade of trees and the afternoon was spent in visiting and talking over old times.

Each expressed their appreciation for the pleasures of the day and this enjoyable event will live long in the memory of those who participated in the celebration.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Thedford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Thedford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

BURLINGTON H. D. CLUB

Strong flavored vegetables are always cooked in plenty of water and always keep cooking vessels uncovered. Mild flavored vegetables are cooked in a small quantity of water and covered. This was demonstrated by Miss Bertha Fae Strange at our club meeting with Mrs. Pete Guidry June 9th with 10 members and 3 visitors present.

Strong flavored vegetables contain acids and sulphur and if cooked in a covered vessel the steam cannot escape so it forms a sulphuric acid which bleaches or changes the color and flavor of the vegetables cooked. They should also be cooked quickly. While mild flavored vegetables do not contain the acids and sulphur as the strong flavored vegetables do they are cooked in a small quantity of water and in a covered vessel.

Miss Strange gave us a council report and then a short session was held to set the day for our Community Party which is to be June 25 at the O. D. H. S. Hall at Burlington. A beautiful quilt will be given away to the lucky person.

Everybody is invited to our Recreation party Thursday night June 25 at the Burlington Hall.

NEW DISCOVERIES OF SCIENCE BRING DEMAND FOR HALT

British Savant Urges Creation of Ethical Code for Scientists.

London.—Science is growing into a Frankenstein monster which soon the scientists of the world themselves may not be able to hold in check.

This fear is expressed by Sir Richard Gregory, one of the greatest scientists in Britain. Other scientists agree with him.

Two years ago the British association formed a "brain trust" in an attempt to put the monster in chains, but Sir Richard now admits that the attempt has failed.

Ethics "Non-existent."

Sir Richard frankly admits there is justification in the increasing suspicion with which the ordinary man is viewing the efforts of the laboratories.

"Ethical considerations are almost totally non-existent among scientists," he observed. "To them new knowledge is the thing.

"The biggest job which faces us today is to solve this old problem of the responsibility of the scientist with regard to his discoveries and the rest of the community.

"One item of research properly applied might find work for tens of thousands, and another throw thousands out of work. One result of research wisely applied may save human lives and another destroy them."

A. G. Church, who, as an executive of the British Science Guild and the Association of Scientific Workers, was concerned with the British association plans for a "brain trust" to maintain a check on discoveries and their applications, is not hopeful for the future. He said:

Efforts Fail.

"The efforts we made to get scientists to weld themselves together into a profession with a corporate sense of responsibility like lawyers, doctors and others, have failed absolutely.

"Some time ago we made an attempt to find out how far scientists were prepared to limit themselves against work which might have harmful potentialities to the community.

"Prof. Sir Frederick Soody suggested a resolution that members should not accept subsidies to engage in special research work into poison gases for military purposes.

"Our members would have none of it.

"The trouble is that the average scientist is far more arrogant about his work than the normal man, and he declines to admit any measures which he considers a restriction on the pursuit of knowledge.

"But 'this freedom' in research has great dangers to the world today."

Armless Fiddler Reaches Goal; He Envies No One

Detroit.—Born armless, Herman Unthan has so overcome the handicap that he can declare, "I have enjoyed everything that people with arms can enjoy—and I have never met any one whom I had reason to envy."

In his autobiography, "The Armless Fiddler," Unthan tells how he overcame his handicap at an early age, learned to use his feet as normal human beings use their arms and hands, and traveled all over the world as a vaudeville artist and circus performer.

In addition to his success as a violinist and performer, Unthan offered his services to the German army in 1914 and taught armless men how to substitute their feet for their hands. Later he lectured and demonstrated his methods to medical authorities.

Yawns of Woman May Last for Years, Doctors Say

Victoria, B. C.—Mrs. P. E. Wakelin, attractive wife of a Victoria taxi driver, who has yawned almost constantly since September 8, may have to wait two years before she is free from her curious malady, her physicians have informed her.

The woman was weakened, after 167 days of yawning, but hoped for eventual recovery. The condition is caused by a nervous disorder, doctors believed.

At times the spasms cease entirely, to return later. Mrs. Wakelin requires sedatives to sleep.

Building Is Jacked Up to Free Rabbit Chaser

Cleveland.—It took six boys and three men four hours to get Duke, a fox terrier, out from beneath a vacant cottage, where he got stuck chasing a rabbit. His release was effected only when the workers jacked up the building. The rabbit escaped.

It's Easy to Escape From French Foreign Legion

Plymouth, England.—How to escape from the French Foreign Legion—by one who has done it.

Walk out of the headquarters barracks at Sidi-el-Abbas. Jump on the first bicycle you can find. Discard most of your uniform on the outskirts of the town. Ride the fifty miles to Oran and stowaway on a ship that is not French.

No one is officially posted as a deserter until he has been absent for six days.

"It's easy," said ex-Legionnaire William Allen, twenty-one, "a Greek steamer took me to Gibraltar, where I got the steamer home."

It wasn't because of cruelty that he left the Legion, but because "I happened to want to see some one in London—so I left."

lam county. Petitions were presented and soon the girls canning work was under way. It was my privilege to be present at several of these preparation rallies. Mrs. E. A. Wallace, Mrs. W. A. Morrison and Mrs. W. G. Gillis, Mrs. Oliver Looney, and some who have passed on or gone away, were active in the promotion of the work. When County Commissioners had been persuaded by home and foreign influences that funds should be allotted for the purpose, each summer, an extension worker was employed for two months to promote successful work among rural girls interested in tomato growing and canning. This short period of employing a woman agent continued through several years.

The first 4-H Club in Texas is said to have been organized by Mrs. Edna V. Trigg in Milam county. I have often heard her explain and have members of her early clubs explain symbolism of the 4-H's as to training of the head, heart, hands and health. The aims and motto of early clubs were the same as now.

During 1912 sixteen home demonstration agents were appointed after Texas A. & M. College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture made a co-operative agreement as to the work in the state. This work began with girls as it was believed that farm women would not allow agents to come into their homes and tell them how to do things. The pioneer agents did the work themselves, but now they teach the club members how to do it. Mrs. Trigg's daughter, Eloise, a splendid H. D. worker received a three year scholarship at C. I. A. in Denton, and this caused the family to move to Denton County where now Mrs. Trigg ranks as the pioneer Texas County H. D. Agent because she has given so many of her years to that service. Mr. George Banzhaf holds pioneer rank as County Farm Agent in Milam County and in Texas.

In 1913, 18 lady agents, as they were called then, were employed and a system of supervision was adopted. When government money under the Smith-Lever Act later became available, the work began to spread.

Soon the raising of poultry, simple sewing and the making of household conveniences were added to club duties. Prizes for fine work were given and club girls began to accomplish many things, and began to study scientific methods. The number of agents increased each year and as father, son and daughter were working together in extension work the next natural step was for the farm mother to become interested and in 1915 home demonstration work for Texas women was begun. One of the first projects was the making of fireless cookers and canning and poultry work were popular.

In 1916 the first Texas girls camp was held on the Dallas state fair grounds. About 100 girls attended A. & M. Short Course in 1916 while a far greater number attended in 1936. By 1917 there were district agents in Texas and specialists in dairy, garden and poultry work. The work for women was broadened and made more definite. Household needs and the construction of clothes for the family were featured. The equipping and furnishing of convenient and attractive homes and yards were stressed. The good work went on by degrees and by 1923 there were 81 home agents in Texas. In June of that year the women of Milam County, who had been eager for a full time service, were gladdened by the coming of our first H. D. Agent. She was glad to have the assistance of Mrs. D. H. Sanford in canning. She had frequent visits from Specialists at A. & M. College, Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, Mrs. Dora Barnes, Mrs. Myrtle Murray, Mrs. Bernice Clayton, Mrs. Edith Andrews, Miss Mary Jes- [illegible] year Texas districts for men and women's clubs were made to conform. Meat canning was at high peak and kitchen improvement contests were held. Later living room contests have added happiness to Texas homes.

In 1924 there were five organized H. D.Clubs in Milam County, and 1,100 food containers were reported. In 1935 there were 31 clubs and 100,225 food containers valued at $23,185.55. This 1936 Centennial year due to mergers there are now 29 clubs. All branches of H. D. work are being changed to meet the needs of our changing times.

Work is continually expanding. A group made up of representatives from the county group of H. D. Clubs bring to the agent the needs of each club and carry back to the club members information and suggestions for the good of the work. This is the work of the County Council. This community responsibility develops leadership and allows the agent time to work with more people. In Milam county a recreation association provides a wise direction of Social Affairs.

A sponsors organization develops and provides leadership for 4-H Club activities.

Gradually the program for H. D. Clubs have changed from an individualistic motive to group welfare.

Since the auspicious beginnings of Home Demonstration work in Milam County, the following agents have served to the satisfaction of all concerned:

Miss Gladys Henry, June 1, 1923 to September 1, 1924.

Mrs. Etta Ringgold, 1925 to 1926.

Miss Velma Montgomery, 1926 to 1927.

Miss Minnie Bartholomew, 1928 to 1933.

Miss Bertha Fae Strange, 1933 to 1936.

Educational standards require that all H. D. Agents be college trained. Dr. Knapp said, "The agent's value lies not in what she does but what she gets other people to do."

The Agent's mission is to solve the problem of poverty and to increase the measure of human happiness.

The people of Milam county realized the great success of the H. D. work during the period of depression. The co-operation of every citizen should be enlisted to make the work a pronounced success. "Where there is no vision the people perish." It is unnecessary to say to Milam County women to succeed in H. D. work or anything, one must keep her eyes open and her mind fresh to all new ideas. When gray hairs come, as they must, keep them on the outside of your skull and do not let them get inside.

Bobbie Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hays, has been ill this week.

Raby Hill Free on $12,500 Bond

Raby Hill, at one time under a 99 year sentence for murder in connection with the slaying of George Richards, night policeman, in Cameron on the night of September 25, 1935, has been released from the Milam County jail on a $12,500 bond.

Hill gained his liberty when the court of Criminal Appeals at Austin, reversed and remanded the case for a new trial, finding evidence of misconduct on the part of the jury when it discussed matters not contained in the evidence.

The bond was first fixed at $20,000 and Hill was unable to make it. He has been in the Milam county jail since the shooting.

He was convicted on October 16, 1935 and given a 99 year sentence. Former District Judge John Watson of Cameron and DeWitt Bowmer of Temple are attorneys for Hill.

Singing the bond for Hill were: C. C. Hill, father; O. B. Owen, E. L. White, Briary;D. H. Thweatt, Maysfield; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Henderson, Branchville; Joe R. Plistiro, Bryan; August H. Gohman, Cameron; C. F. McCall, Yarrellton and D. P. Smith, Cameron.

Hill has been in jail since the shooting. Following his conviction, the case was appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals, Austin. It was reversed and remanded May 13. Motion for re-hearing was filed by the state on May 27 but was over-ruled June 17. Mandate was issued on June 18 and upon receipt of it in Cameron Hill made bond.

The shooting for which Hill was convicted occured on Sunday morning about 1 a. m. September 22, 1935 on the side walk in front of the Hill Cafe, which was owned and managed by Raby Hill at the time of the shooting. The shooting is alleged to have grown out of a traffic violation by Erskine Hill. A plea of self defense was made.

Dead Twig Disease On Arborvitae Can Be Cured By Spray

Clark Kelly of the Kelly Nursery in Cameron has received a letter from J. J. Taubenhaus, chief of plant pathology at A. & M. College, containing valuable information for Cameron home owners.

Diseased twigs on arborvitoe has caused some distress among those who have planted this beautiful shrub. Dead twigs are caused by pestaloggia blight and can be cured by cutting out and burning the affected limbs and spraying the plant with 4-450 Bordeaux to which is added 5 pounds of wettable sulphur to each 50 gallons of Bordeaux. The plant should be sprayed at weekly intervals.

This information will be of great interest to the people of this section.

FLOOD CONTROL HEAD VISITS IN CAMERON

Hon. John A. Norris, general manager of the Brazos River Reclamation and Conservation District visited in Cameron last Saturday.

Mr. Norris reports fine progress being made in the preliminary work on Sparta dam on the Leon River in Bell County. He is much intereted in the flood situation in Milam County and believes that the completion of the series of dams on the Leon, Lampasas and San Gabriel rivers now in contemplation will protect the Milam county river lands from overflow. He hopes that this work may be rapidly advanced within the next year..

Mrs. Norris is remembered by Cameron citizens as Miss Emma Lott, daughter of Dr. M. K. Lott, now deceased, and at one time a physician in Cameron.

L. Van Perkins, salesman with the Fidelty Union Insurance Co., Dallas will attend insurance convention in Dallas this week.

Honor School Students Get Baylor College 1936 Scholarship

Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Mary Hardy-Baylor College, at Belton, announces that the College will give a free literary scholarship to the highest ranking girl graduate of each affiliated high school in Milam county. The announcement further states that if this highest ranking girl is not in position to accept the scholarship it will be awarded to the girl who won second highest rank in her graduating class this year. And if the second girl cannot accept, the College will divide the scholarship between any two other girls who were outstanding in scholarship and personality, provided they can pay the balance in cash. Parents of all girl graduates in this county of the class of 1936, are invited to interest themselves in this matter.

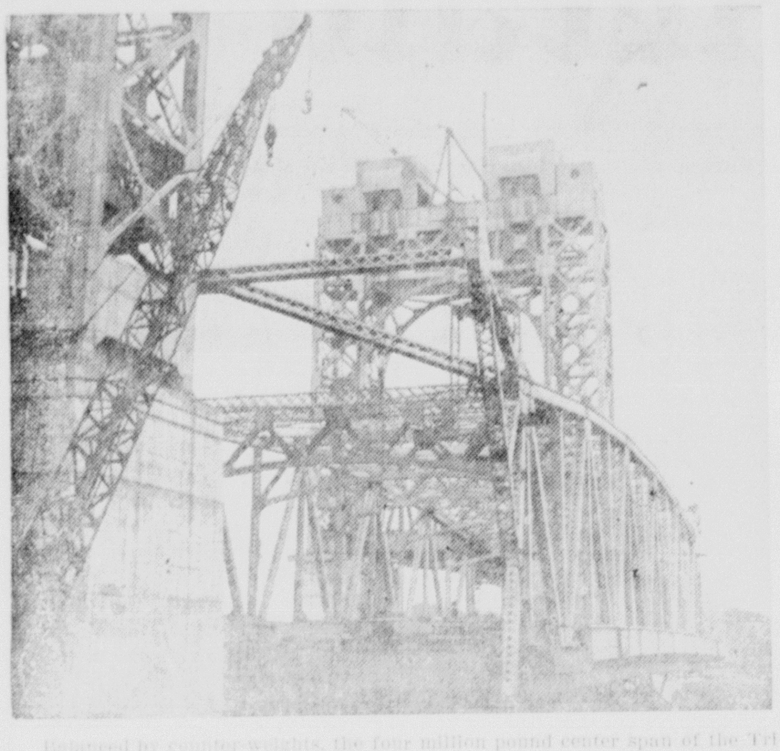
Four Million Pound Span Hoisted



Balanced by counter-weights, the four million pound center span of the Tri-Boro bridge over the Harlem river in New York was hoisted into position to link Randall's island with Manhattan at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. This bridge is one of the units in the gigantic Tri-Boro bridge project which will link Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens. The span was floated into position on a barge.

SPIRITUALIST

The Ladies Aid of the First Spiritualist church sponsored a social at the church building on Tuesday evening June 16. A large crowd gathered to participate in the games, contests and plays had been arranged. Admission price for this evening of fun was determined by the number of inches each measured around his or her waist, a penny for each inch. The proceeds of this went to defray the church expenses.

On Thursday evening June 25, three well known spiritualist workers visited in the city of Cameron and took part on the program. These were Mrs. Ivy Westmire of Chicago, former Texas Lyceum Superintendent; Mrs. Sarah Pierson, of Denver, Colorado, President of the Colorado State Association; and Mrs. Marie Creagor of Denver, Secretary of the Denver Spiritualist church.

Forester Nearly Cooked to Death

Corvallis, Ore.—Howard Bullard, forestry research worker here, narrowly escaped being cooked to death when he entered a lumber dry kiln for investigation purposes. After several minutes in the lumber drying room, where the temperature is kept at 190 degrees, Bullard found himself unable to leave because the door was latched from the outside. A kiln tender, attracted by Bullard's frantic shouts and pounding on the door, released him. The investigator was blistered when he left the drying room, where a five-minute stay might have proven fatal.

EAGLES KILL DEER IN FIERCE BATTLE

Story of Epic Struggle in Wisconsin Wilds.

Madison, Wis.—A story of a battle in the wilds of Wisconsin that ranks with the imaginative tales of Jack London has recently been written in the snow of Vilas county.

The first part of the account comes from Paul Smith, connected with the Conservation department's forestry service for more than twenty years.

Mr. Smith, while four miles east of High Lake, Vilas county, found where eagles had fought a desperate battle against a deer, and won. The animal, a fawn, although somewhat smaller than the older deer, was near mature size.

Marks in the snow told the story of the fight. The fawn was apparently attacked while traveling on a trail. The animal became desperate and lunged into the deep snow. There were marks of eagle wings in the snow, some of them three feet deep, marking the place of the struggle. With the animal suffering the handicap of deep snow the eagles finally downed it.

The huge birds had eaten about half the carcass when Mr. Smith found it. The flesh remaining was still warm and there were no marks in the snow except those made by the eagles and fawn.

What was left of the carcass was later found by a group that included Wardens Frank Long and Hartwell Paul. Several eagles and a flock of ravens were feasting on the last bits of flesh.

The birds left at the approach of the group, but one eagle, crippled in some unknown way, was found flopping about the snow. Captured, he was found to have a wing spread of 84 inches.

The big birds were bald eagles, said by Mr. Barnard to be common in the district.

The fight was one of the first recorded in the memory of the department veterans and was cited as a definite answer to slurs recently printed about the battling ability of the American eagle, described as a carrion eater.

Mr. Barnard believes that the attack on the larger animal was directly the result of a scarcity of rabbits in the locality. Unable to satisfy their hunger with smaller game, the eagles were forced to tackle large prey in order to obtain food necessary to sustain life.

Waiter in London Cafe Lays Down Law to King

London.—"Chignon" Grant, courteous, efficient waiter at the London Cafe Royal, achieved sudden fame recently.

King Leopold of Belgium walked into the cafe just after 11 p. m. and ordered beer.

"Yes, sir," said Chignon. "And what food do you require?"

"No food—just lager," said his Belgic majesty.

There is an old English law which forbids anyone—even royalty—from having a drink in a public place after 11, unless some food is taken with it.

Chignon stressed the point. "If you want a drink," he said, "it must be served with food."

"Very well. Food. Bring what you like."

Chignon brought a sandwich. His majesty drank his lager—took a bite of his sandwich. And Chignon bowed him out.

Then Chignon was told to whom he had laid down the law.

Banana Peel Ordinance Keeping Police on Toes

Lorain, Ohio.—If anyone in Lorain sees a banana peel on the sidewalk, he can order a policeman to remove it and, if the officer obeys the department regulations he'll comply.

Reporters nosing through musty records found this rule and learned that it never had been repealed:

"The police shall take notice of any banana peels found upon the sidewalk and shall, when necessary, remove them."

Mail Box Gives Shock

Kenton, Ohio.—The corner mail box was empty, and mail men still are wondering whether a high wind or a practical joker connected the power line with the box, giving an electrical shock to anyone who touched the lid.

heart-warming romance of the dear old days when men wore peg-leg trousers and automobilees were gasoline carriages.

Happy impish Jane Withers, in her most mischievous mood, is the leading player in this picture, which features Marsha Hunt, Tom Brown and Jackie Searl, the little villain of "Ginger," in principal supporting roles.

"NOBODY'S FOOL"

"Nobody's Fool," a smart, swiftly paced farce comedy, comes to the Cameron Theatre Wednesday July 1. Edward Everett Horton is the star of this hilarious Universal offering. He is always a delight and his present hole gives splendid scope for his unusual comedy methods which show his versatility.

The wisecracking Glenda Farrell, an excellent foil for the amusing Horton, portrays the character with a pert sense of humor. Cesar Romero is entertaining as a modern highbinder who thinks he knows all the answers. Warren Hymer, the fellow who plays the eternal clown, is a valuable addition to the cast which includes John King, Dianna Gibson, Nan Gray, Maria Shelton and Henry Hunter.

Horton gets out of one difficulty into another, each one more serious. His effrontery is both amazing and amusing. Memorizing a set speech on modern housing conditions, he works miracles. What he does to a group of real estate sharks provides the central theme of the story.

The humor is fast moving, developing from laughable situations as well as the funny lines. There is a surprise twist to the climax that sends the audience home in high glee. Arthur Greenville Collins directed the film.

"PALM SPRINGS"

Frances Langford portrays a pretty heiress whose heart is won by Smith Ballew, a guitar-plucking, torch-singing cowboy, in Walter Wanger's "Palm Springs" produced for Paramount and coming to the Cameron Theatre Tuesday June 30.

In the comedy Frances discovers that her once wealthy father is penniless and she is forced to give up the man she loves to marry another wealthy enough to provide both for her and her parents. In the process of fortune hunting, she pretends to be an English noblewoman and almost succeeds in marrying a weathy playboy when her devoted father discovers she is sacrificing herself to save him from poverty. He denounces her as an imposter, and frustrates the marriage, leaving Frances high and dry and husbandless.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functional pains go away and women praise Cardui for helping them back to good health. . . . Mrs. C. E. Ratliff, of Hinton, W. Va., writes: "After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui again and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Girl Home Too Late, Police Back Story

Houston, Texas.—Detective P. Y. Snow listened while a pretty seventeen-year-old schoolgirl told how a burglar entered her home by cutting a screen. The family also listened.

Snow, however, found dainty footprints outside the window. Alone with the officer, the girl said she was the burglar because her father ordered her to be home at 10 p. m. nightly.

"I didn't get in until 11:30," she said. "Don't tell papa."

Snow co-operated.

"DEATH'S JUNKMAN" HUNTS FOR "DUDS"

French Firm Digs for Unexploded Shells.

Coucy-Le-Chateau, France.—Eighteen years after the World war, unexploded shells still are being found in the war zone.

Reconstruction virtually is over, the farmers have nearly conquered the stubborn lines left by the trenches, but the service which hunts and destroys shells is still at work. For the first 12 years army engineers did the job. Then it occurred to someone to give the concession to a private company which would pay for the recovered metal.

Six years ago "death's junkman" came into being, with quarters in Coucy-le-Chateau, near the emplacement of the "Big Bertha" which shelled Paris. The concern has a museum of particularly rare pieces (unloaded), the biggest exhibit being a 420-millimeter shell.

Besides going its own hunting, the company is informed of the accidental finding of shells. It sends its special trucks, fitted for handling explosives, and the shell is taken to the exploding ground of Saint-Aubin, near Coucy, or to a larger property at Heurtebise, near the Chemin des Dames. At the latter field two years ago one of the trucks upset, and the resultant explosion broke windows in four surrounding villages. The driver wasn't scratched.

How much latent death still is hidden under the soil of France may be deduced from the figures of the company's six-year activity. In that time it has responded to 4,320 reports of found shells, which have led to its trucks bringing in 1,450,000 tons of "duds." During the same period it has destroyed where they were found another 167,000 tons of shells considered non-transportable. And still undestroyed at its two fields are 236,794 tons of shells.

The company has not lost a man.

Hearts of Dead Made to Beat Again by Physician

Detroit, Mich.—Human hearts made to beat again after their owners had died were seen on the moving picture screen by members of the American College of Physicians here.

The hearts were revived—unfortunately too late to do their owners any good—by Dr. William B. Kountz of Washington university, St. Louis, Mo. Doctor Kountz's object is to learn more about human hearts and how they function both in health and sickness so that he and other doctors will know how to keep hearts beating in sick persons and just what medicines to use for various ailments of heart and blood vessels.

So far Doctor Kountz has succeeded in making 63 hearts beat after removing them from the bodies of persons who died. Of these, 15 developed regular heart pumping mechanisms and went on beating for an hour or more. With 15 of the hearts Doctor Kountz had the lungs attached and these kept on beating outside the body for as long as four hours.

The hearts were taken from persons of all ages from babies born dead to an adult seventy-three years old. Hearts from persons who died of a chronic illness could as a rule be revived more easily than those from persons who died of acute infections. Hearts from tuberculosis patients were easiest of all to revive. Children's hearts responded more readily to Doctor Kountz's efforts than adults' hearts. Hearts from persons dying of heart disease were the hardest to start beating, with the single exception of the hearts from those who died of a heart ailment that was present when they were born.

Police Dog Brings Down Escaping Purse Snatcher

Chicago.—A police dog that lived up to its name caught a robber by the seat of his pants recently after Mrs. Joseph McCauley lost her purse containing $15. Campbell Humphrey, who saw the theft, unleashed the dog with the command, "Go get him." After a half-block chase the dog grabbed the purse snatcher and held him until a policeman arrived.

Boa Has Operation

Paris.—A veterinary surgeon at Saint-Pourcain-sur-Sioule performed an operation on a huge boa constrictor at a traveling circus before several score spectators. The reptile was suffering from an abscess caused by the lodgment in its throat of a bone.

Rock Crusher Stolen

Hillsboro, Ore.—Thieves who had a lot of perseverance removed a five-ton rock crusher from a county road camp near here.

BIG STATE SHOWS TO OPEN HERE JUNE 29

What is said to be the cleanest operated outdoor traveling tent and midway amusement enterprise in showdom—the Big State Shows—are dated for Cameron for the American Legion's Independence Day week celebration June 24 to July 4.

An aerial circus is "tops" of the varied presentations and is absolutely free. In this, the feature extraordinary, the Flying Valentines in mid-air flights, twisters and triple somersaults. At times it seems these fearless flying brothers will be dashed into eternity. There must be perfect timing. The slighest error means death. In Tent theatre line-up are jig minstrels, circus side show, and crime shows—the latter an abiding lesson unto the youth of the land: "Crime does not pay."

Adults pay at main entrance a general admission of 10 cents. Children under 12 free. Music, spieling, ballyhooing, parking and novelty melange, all FREE. Director General Roy Gray permits no girl shows or anything that will offend. He has a "Canvas church" for his 200 people, and its pastor is Chapiain Doc Waddell, world noted evangelist. Mr. Gray has a school for his people. Its superintendent, Prof. Henry Ohlson, formerly of Ohio State University. His daughter, Ruth Gray Young, educated at Baylor, is principal of the kindergarten department. In this are 20 odd children of show families. There is a gymnasium on the show for the show folk. Its coach, a well-known athlete. The Big State young showmen's base ball team, and the nine made up of show girls, are hard to beat. On the midway are all kinds of rides. Baby rides for the kiddies. Concessions row like a Sunday School—honest and square deal. Performances are continuous. The big thing will arrive at Cameron Sunday, June 28. Show fans invariably assemble at the show grounds and watch the coming in of the caravan, the parking, unloading, and putting up of the "canvas town." Interesting sights this affords, and many of them funny beyond description. If the public desires to back up their demand for a clean going, wholesome, honest, high class amusement enterprise, every man, woman and child is these "diggins" will take in the wonders the Big unit offers its patrons.

Mrs. J. W. M. Vilder of Orlando, Florida, is a guest of her sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Slaughter.

Refreshing Relief

When You Need a Laxative

Because of the refreshing relief it has brought them, thousands of men and women, who could afford much more expensive laxatives, use Black-Draught when needed. It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. . . Mr. J. Lester Roberson, well known hardware dealer at Martinsville, Va., writes: "I certainly can recommend Black-Draught as a splendid medicine. I have taken it for constipation and the dull feelings that follow, and have found it very satisfactory."

BLACK-DRAUGHT

PANTHERS ATTACK RESCUE PLANE IN BOLIVIAN JUNGLE

Remarkable Story of Adventure Related by Seven Marooned Men.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.—A remarkable story of adventure in the jungle is told by passengers of a Bolivian seaplane who have arrived at Puerto Suarez, in the Bolivian Chaco, after awaiting rescue for about two weeks in Matto Grosso.

Six panthers were killed when they tried to attack the party of seven, four passengers and three of the crew. Other wild beasts and savage Indians also were menaces and watch had to be kept day and night against them.

Forced Down In Jungle.

The seven were in the seaplane Neni, which disappeared some weeks previously. It was forced to land in a desolate part of Matto Grosso, on Bolivian soil. After several days it was located by Bolivian planes sent out to search for it and then a party of army sappers was started for the place.

These soldiers spent many arduous days cutting their way through the jungle. They finally found the plane in a swamp. Through the swamp they improvised a runway that enabled the Neni to take off, after it had been repaired, and it made its way to Puerto Suarez.

The party was fed while the rescuers were approaching by supplies from planes that flew overhead. Camp beds as well as food were contributed in this fashion. Their vigil was also helped by the fact that their plane had been carrying a large shipment of beer. All of this was consumed.

Saved by Luck.

The sappers who rescued the seven on the Bolivian plane had to penetrate some of the most difficult territory on earth. Most of the great Matto Grosso, which extends over a large part of Brazil and parts of Bolivia and Peru, has never been explored. It is cut up by rivers and swamps and the rank undergrowth and vines hanging from trees can be penetrated only by cutting a way through them. Only the luck of having found a large swamp for landing probably saved the men on the Neni.

Dog Barks at Birthday Party; Two Are Killed

Veliki-Kikinda, Yugoslavia.—A dog caused the death of two people, serious injuries to two men, and the arrest of another at his master's birthday party.

Michael Hufnuss celebrated his birthday with his family. When his neighbor, Vasza Lazsakov, appeared to present his congratulations Hufnuss' dog barked. Lazsakov became angry and beat the dog, whereupon Michael's mother came to the scene and protested. Vasza answered this with a slap at the woman's head. She fell down and was knocked unconscious.

Hufnuss, believing Vasza had killed his mother, knocked Lazsakov down with an ax. This was the moment for another neighbor, by name of Terzin, to intervene. He wrested the ax from Hufnuss' hand and landed it on the latter's head.

Now neighbor No. 3, Azmin Grossman, stepped in. He disabled Terzin by a stroke with a shovel.

All individuals concerned, except the dog, had to be carried to the hospital, where Mrs. Hufnuss and Lazsakov died.

Terzin was arrested.

Man Cured of Paralysis by Attack of Influenza

London.—Flu has cured the paralysis which chained John Heuchan, fifty-one-year-old English steel worker to a wheel chair for 14 years.

In 1921 Heuchan was employed at the Dalzell steel works. Attacked by paralysis in legs and back, he became a total invalid. His mates bought him an invalid chair.

A few weeks ago he took sick with a bad attack of influenza.

He recovered slowly. To his amazement he found that he was gradually regaining power over his legs.

Improving rapidly, he now is able to walk without assistance. Doctors, nurses and friends are overcome with astonishment. Heuchan said:

"I believe myself that the influenza germ killed the germ of paralysis. Thank God for the influenza germ."

Bulgarian "Witch" Will Hang for Six Murders

Sofia, Bulgaria.—The "Witch of Novibazar" has been sentenced to be hanged for six weird murders. She is Tiza Lublimetch, sixty-seven-year-old crippled, hairless and toothless peasant.

Last year she convinced peasants that her enemy, Stoyevitch, had sold himself to the devil and thereby had obtained supernatural powers which he used to damage crops.

Led by Tiza, the peasants tied Stoyevitch to a tree and beat him. Tiza finally stabbed him in the heart, then filled the dead man's mouth with glass splinters, "to prevent him from communicating with the devil and casting further spells."

Police discovered the body and learned that the "witch" had poisoned five other persons.

RAILROAD WEEK HERE JULY 13-18

Railroad week will be observed in Cameron July 13-18, according to E. C. Cole, local agent for the Southern Pacific Lines.

A meeting was held this week of Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads and American Railway Express employees of this city to form a committee to make plans to boost railroad week here. This committee will operate under the executive committee of Western Railroads with headquarters in Chicago.

The local committee is composed of John Haygood, chairman; E. C. Cole, vice chairman; W. DuBois, secretary, and Chas. D. Davidson, A. C. Balhorn, R. W. Bennett, F. Russ and Pete Foster.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express sincere thanks and appreciation to those who so kindly helped us during the hours of our deepest grief and for the beautiful floral offerings at the death of our mother, Mrs. Lewallen.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sanders and other members of the family.

BODY OF MAN IS FOUND ON RAILS

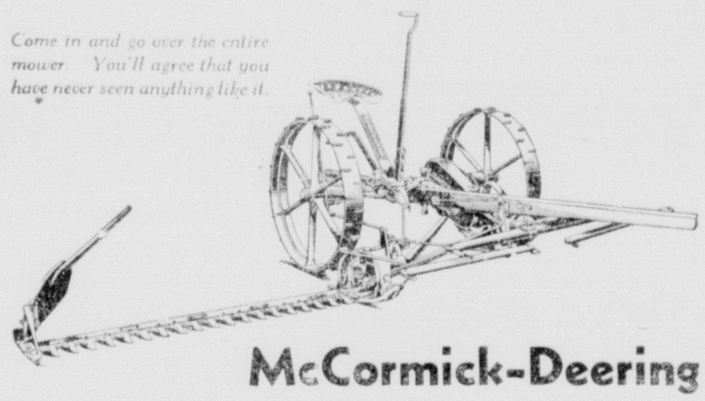
Coleman Williams, 29, of Valley Mills was found dead Friday morning at Buckholts on the Santa Fe railroad track.

Williams was discovered by the section foreman early Friday morning in the middle of the track with his arms and legs torn from his body, and scattered along the track. He was identified by papers in his pockets. Williams is the son of Bill Williams, an undertaker of Valley Mills.

It is believed that the man fell from the south bound freight train Friday morning at 2 a. m. as it was switching near Buckholts.

The Friendly Bible Class of the Mathodist church were entertained with a luncheon on Wednesday. An interesting program was rendered with the following taking parts: Miss Leila Lee Batte, Roy McDermott, Patricia Batte, Virginia Weems and Miss Ruth Kemp. Out of town guests were: Mrs. C. C. Culpepper of Poplarville, Mississippi; Mrs. Hamilton Bonnett of San Antonio and Mrs. J. W. Vilder of Orlando, Florida.

Come in and go over the entire mower. You'll agree that you have never seen anything like it.



McCormick-Deering

No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and flywheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

The Deposited Funds of a Bank

—are given employment as reserves, investments, loans and cash on hand.

A BANK sets aside a definite percentage of deposits as legal reserves required by law. Then a voluntary "secondary reserve" is set up consisting of short-term, highly liquid investments. A sufficient amount of cash is kept on hand to meet daily requirements. This money is circulated constantly through local business channels.

The bank invests a part of its funds in Government, state and municipal bonds and other sound securities. It loans a portion locally to business men and customers.

It is the daily work of this bank to safeguard depositors' funds, render helpful financial services and find safe, useful employment for the money entrusted to our care.

DETROIT THIEF IS TRAPPED BY LUCK, ASSERTS EXAMINER

Bank Notice Delivered by Accident Reveals $349,000 Shortage.

Chicago.—It was "pure happenstance" that exposed the $349,000 shortage in Detroit city pension funds and caused the suicide of Harry M. Tyler, assistant city budget director.

The force of 40 federal bank examiners working on the books of the National Bank of Detroit had no suspicion whatever that there was anything wrong with city funds accounts, Ben J. Bleakley, who was in charge of the bank examination, declared in his Chicago headquarters.

And it was only by accident that the bank notice giving the total amounts in the various public funds on deposit fell directly into the hands of City Treasurer A. E. Cobo instead of being tossed into the waste basket by one of his assistants.

Tripped by Tracer.

"We are never concerned with any shortage outside the bank which we are examining," Examiner Bleakley explained. "What we are after is to make sure the accounts of the bank are correct. In this case, merely as part of our routine procedure, we sent out what we call 'tracers'—statements showing the amount of public funds on deposit to be verified by the official in charge of such funds. Instead of addressing the city funds statement to 'A. E. Cobo, City Treasurer, City Hall,' one of my assistants apparently addressed the envelope 'Al E. Cobo, City Hall,' and someone, thinking it was a personal note, placed the letter unopened on the city treasurer's desk. As a matter of fact Mr. Cobo almost tossed it aside, but he happened to notice that the total of city pension funds was $71,000 instead of $420,000 and he went to the bank immediately to see what was wrong.

No Mystery About It.

"No mystery about it, you see. Just one of those million and one unsuspected details which always seem to turn up sooner or later to trip the embezzler—something he has not thought of or which he can't control. The records of the bank were in perfect order and there had been no tampering with them in the keeping of the city funds accounts. The withdrawals had all been entered, on checks signed by the city treasurer's name, which had been forged. These withdrawals had been going on for 15 months.

"Evidently Tyler had been falsifying the bank statements which he received every month before he turned them in to the city treasurer. He was in an ideal position to be able to do this because in addition to being the assistant budget director he was also the chief accountant for the comptroller's office and all accounts and statements passed through his hands first."

Woman Risks Her Life to Feed Her Hungry Family

Salmon, Idaho.—Fearful that her family would starve, Mrs. Thomas Strombaugh, mother of ten hungry children, risked her life on the floating ice of the Snake river here when she began her quest for food.

The Strombaugh home, located on an island in the river, is connected to the mainland only by a suspension cable which is pulled across the river by hand.

When her food supply grew dangerously short during a severe storm, the anxious mother attempted to cross to the mainland on the cage. The storm had loosened the cage, however, so that it had slipped to a point midway between the island and the mainland. She was forced to ride floating cakes of ice until she reached the cage.

After pulling herself across the river, Mrs. Strombaugh walked 12 miles through the storm to Salmon, where she was furnished with food by relief headquarters.

Letter Mailed 21 Years Ago Comes Back to Writer

Rochester, Ind.—Charles Wallace, attorney, received a letter which had been lost in either United States or Canadian mails more than 21 years. It was mailed here November 25, 1915.

Wallace, secretary of Moose lodge here, sent the letter to Hugh McNehern, Porcupine, Ontario, a member of Rochester Moose lodge, who has died since.

The cancellation on the envelope, now yellow with age, shows the letter was sent from Porcupine to Timmins, Ont. It was from this office that the letter, which bears a 2-cent stamp, postage rate at that time, was returned to Rochester.

Third Bolt Disproves Old Lightning Axiom

Clermont, Iowa. — Lightning never strikes twice in the same place. "Bunk!" says Lloyd Ostile, farmer living near here.

Ostile recently completed building a fourth barn on the same location. Two have been burned by fire, resulting from lightning. The other was so seriously damaged it had to be torn down.

Ostile hopes lightning won't strike in the same place the fourth time.

ICERS TAKE GAME FROM SURGEONS SUN.

Hayden Lawrence's Cameron Icers, greatly strengthened in the last week, evened their series with an 8 to 7 victory over the strong Temple Surgeons at Temple Sunday.

This was another battle of base knocks with the Icers slamming out 14 hits off the ancient lefty Webb and Curtis Smith. Derden Wofford limited Temple to eight hits but was kept in trouble throughout the game. Wofford allowed both Buckley and Walsh home runs, each coming with one man on the base.

The winner of the game was not decided until all three men were out in the ninth inning and this was really an exciting ball game. The icers built up an early 4 run lead on walks to Munro and Smalley and Dowling's hit for two runs in the first and added two more in the fourth on Dowling's triple. Potsy Allen's double and Doug Williams single. Temple scored two runs in each of the fourth and fifth innings on the home run clouts to tie the score of 4 all.

Cameron scored three runs in the first of the sixth to assume what was apparently a safe lead but Temple came back in their half to tally twice. Cameron scored again in the first of the ninth to make the score 8 to 6 in their favor. In their half Temple seemed to be ready to succumb easily as Wofford caused the first two batters to pop out but Temple then came to life and gave the Cameron players and fans a scare. With two men out, none on, and two strikes on the batter, Roy Moore dropped a Texas leaguer to right field. Swede Lind then walloped a terrific liner, the hardest hit ball of the day, to deep center field where it lacked only inches in clearing the wall for a home run. Moore scored and Lind pulled up at third with the tying run. Wofford pitched very carefully to Curtis Smith and finally gave him a base on balk. With the tying and winning runs on bases Wofford then showed his mettle by striking out the dangerous Carl Craft for the final out of a thrilling ball game.

Munro, with two doubles, Dowling with two singles and a triple, Allen with three singles and a double and Williams with a double and single were the leading Cameron hitters. Swede Lind was the only Temple player to make two hits.
